

Welcome

The Dynamic Professional Women's Network, Inc. (DPWN) is an exclusive network for professional women who recognize the value of creating partnerships with other like-minded women in order to achieve professional strength and success.

Over and over again, I see how women can become much more powerful when they shift their solo thinking to a more collaborate mindset and join forces with other strong and goal-orientated women in our DPWN Tribe.

There is power in numbers and even more power when women become invested in each other in the business networking world.

Why DPWN?

Unlike other networking groups that just focus on networking, we go a few steps deeper. We focus on building strong relationships with the other women in our community and we learn how to actively provide them value so they are successful. This approach results in stronger bonds, unparalleled loyalty and increased referral generation for everybody.

How to Belong?

3 Easy Steps

- ① Find a Chapter that works well with your schedule and location.
- ② RSVP and then attend their next meeting to meet the members and observe our proven networking system.
- ③ Commit to participating and becoming engaged in that chapter and to also fully support the existing and future members of that chapter, as they will you.
